Trump had nothing to do with it. The ching-chongs shot themselves in the foot with their "made in china" bio-weapon and tanked the world economy. Unless you believe Trump was working in the virus in north carolina, he literally had nothing to do with it. There was no "best" answer to this. We were fucked from the start, all roads lead to economic meltdown. Draconian ching-chong-style quarantine? = Massive ACLU lawsuits and tanking economy from shutting it down. Ride it out? = Massive lawsuits from "not doing enough" and economic shutdown from worker deaths. If anything, this should show people who aren't drooling retards that globalism and jumpy boomers are massive liabilities.

Nah we won the trade war stonk stronger than ever
>Partner with private production a month ago when it obviously wasn't contained to get test kits out
Nah just a flu don't want to panic anyone with real numbers. Sure he didn't cause this but those are just 3 of the mistakes he made in dealing with an already bad situation, now go ahead and call me a shill and get back to your cuckcage in /ptg/ faggot.

Once it falls to 50% of the highs I'm buying with everything I have. I'll probably do a six month schedule. Investing 1/6 of my cash every month. I'm really hoping I get this opportunity. I see it as being very likely to double or triple the money invested in 3 or 4 years. Not bad at all.
